

One day, in many years to come, you will tell your grandchildren about the time when Coronavirus hit the world, and you will explain to them how everything closed down and you had to stay at home for weeks on end to keep everybody safe and healthy. Imagine you are 90 years old and telling the story to a child. What would you say? (Remember, they probably won't believe you!)

A long time ago, when I was a young girl, we had a germ called Covid-19.

This is what happened to me: we stopped going to school, not going to the shops.

We stopped going to church and stopped going to our nana's house.

It made me feel confused.

I've been doing maths when we have a meeting we use zoom and we get to see everyone in our class. We share stories, books and make mother's day cards. By Mary-Ula

Well done Mary-Ula nice use of full stops and I agree - it is a very confusing time right now. I wonder what you find the most confusing about this time? Dr G 7.5.2020

Tell me about something you have done in recent weeks. If you have a photo to add to your work, that would be awesome.

I have been learning how to mute myself on zoom.

I have also been doing Studyladder with my mum and siblings.

Write a list of words that start with the letter C - for Coronavirus.

Time yourself for 2 minutes and see how many words you can write. You could race a family member to see who gets the most words. Try with the letter of your name when you are finished, or choose your own letter to try!

But I'm having so much fun

Oh no there's a very steep hill

Steep steep steep steep

Shiny like the sun

We are riding through the garden

Colourful flowers everywhere

It's so beautiful. Colours everywhere

It's so bright and smells so nice.

Fantastic work Yuki - when you see a squiggly line under a word - see if you can right-click on it and change the spelling (a window pops up with suggestions). 28.4.2020

Dear Melefina

How are you? I am good. What are you doing? Are you having a good day? If the coronavirus finishes, do you want to come to my dad's house at my grandparents' place - where we always go and do you want to play something with our little cousin? If you want to play you could tell me about that on our roblox game.

My sister Solinuu and I baked chocolate cupcakes in the afternoon. My other sister Marie, my mum and I then made poppies out of paper. Mum drew the poppies and we traced and coloured them in with red, green and black colour pencils. We cut them out and blue-tacked them onto my bedroom wall next to my bed.

It was perfect.

It looks perfect - you are doing such excellent writing and reflection - keep it up. Have you learnt how to put the photos on google docs yourself? I hope so...you are very clever. Dr G 28.4.2020
